

Expand your markets & improve your margins with TBB.

TBB Global Logistics is a non-asset based, supply chain management company that relies on superior, web-based technology and relevant expertise to enable clients' ability to effectively and profitably compete in a global marketplace.

Why Choose TBB To Manage Your Supply Chain?

Choose TBB Global Logistics if you view supply chain as a competitive weapon - not just a cost center.

Choose TBB Global Logistics if you desire a supply chain management firm that deploys easy-to-use web-based technology.

Choose TBB Global Logistics if you are seeking a supply chain management firm with which to partner for the long term.

Choose TBB Global Logistics based on the overall value we can drive to your bottom line.

TBB understands the what if's that your business faces every day. We've been providing small and medium sized businesses with supply chain innovation since 1946.

TBB has the technology and expertise to turn your what if's into strategies that expand your markets and improve your margins.

800-937-8224
www.tbbgl.com

We'll help you increase your

M&M's

Expand your

Markets

Improve your

& Margins

Your sales staff developed a significant new customer in another region of the country but after crunching the numbers, supply chain costs made you turn away from the opportunity.

What if you had lower transportation costs than you could get on your own?

What if you could implement a supply chain strategy to compete in the new region in a profitable manner?

What if you had the technology to compete?

A casual walk through your distribution center results in an ugly sighting – a six-foot high mound of product returns that no one has bothered to process. Think about the waste and how an efficient process would put more dollars on your bottom line.

What if you could outsource the RMA process to a professional supply chain call center?

What if all those returns could be immediately processed?

What if all you needed to worry about was insuring the P&L reflected the efficiency of your new reverse logistics process?

You are ahead of the curve. You've been sourcing product in China for years. A fairly smooth process has your imported product clearing Customs on the west coast and being transported to your distribution center on the east coast. In the weekly staff meeting, your VP of Sales says it's hard to compete on the west coast because of the geography. Your CFO adds orders from the western states are less profitable because shipments have to travel all the way across the country — where they've already been!

What if you had the ability to retain some imported product at a satellite distribution center on the west coast?

What if the product could be turned over to a carrier after clearing Customs and sent right to your customers — without ever seeing a distribution center?

While driving to work, it occurs to you that your products are likely to sell as well in Europe as they do in the United States. You really have no idea how to get your product to Europe let alone how to distribute in countries that have different regulations, customs and languages. You arrive at work, get busy and the idea fades into the recesses of your mind as another hectic day unfolds.

What if you knew exactly where to set up a distribution center in Europe and you understood all your costs and potential pitfalls up-front?

What if you could manage that distribution center and coordinate all modes of transportation associated with replenishment and customer fulfillment?

What if the returns process and orders that come into your website are smoothly integrated with the European distribution center?

Let TBB expand your markets and improve your margins.